LAFAYETTE, La. (Feb. 2) - Knight recently announced Phillip Thomas Mitchell will take the lead as general manager of Knight Manufacturing.

Mitchell will manage Knight's manufacturing division and focus on developing its workforce.

"Phil has a long history working in the oil and gas industry and experience in a wide array of areas," said President Mark Knight. "This is the sort of knowledge we need to move Knight's manufacturing operation to the next level."

Mitchell previously worked as an engineering manager, product line engineering manager and a QHSSE manager with a major service provider in the UK, Houston and Lafayette.

He received a mechanical engineering diploma from Robert Gordon University in Aberdeen, Scotland.

In his free time, he is a member of the Harley Owners Group.

Focused on providing "zero failure" equipment and service for more than 36 years, Knight Oil Tools has grown to include Knight Fishing Services, Well Services and Manufacturing. The company is the largest privately held rental and fishing tools business in the oil and gas industry. Knight has an extensive inventory of high-quality products necessary for safe, efficient and productive oilfield projects.

Knight's 30 locations across eight oil-producing states serve all phases of an oil well's lifecycle from exploration to abandonment. For more information, visit www.knighoiltools.com.
